General Review

With all the romance of development and expansion so common to many Midwestern cities, the growth of Mishawaka, lying in the fertile St. Joseph Valley on the banks of the winding St. Joseph River, may be looked upon with pride by its 33,000 citizens.

It was in 1829 that the Indians—the Shawnee and Potawatomi tribes—ceded the lands of the St. Joseph Valley to the U. S. Government, and in that year the first white settlers arrived and began their task of clearing land for their homes—land destined to become the city of Mishawaka.

In 1832, deposits of bog iron-ore were discovered, and in 1833 a blast furnace and homes for 100 persons were built. In the next few years other settlements sprang up and Mishawaka seemed doomed to lose its name, but with the spirit which has been so prominent in its continual growth--with that determination which today its merchants look upon with untinted pride--Mishawaka in 1839 proved itself "The city with the power to do" by incorporating as a village and taking in the small settlements which had threatened its supremacy.

Rev. N. M. Wells, the first minister, was a Presbyterian. George Merrifield was the first school teacher. The city grew and prospered, surviving the Civil War, and then came the eventful night, Sept. 2, 1872, when fire broke out near the rear of the Presbyterian Church. Fanned by a stiff breeze, it soon was out of control. Calls for help were made to South Bend and Elkhart, but not in time to save the business section and some of the residential section. The loss was heavy--some $150,000--less than half of which was covered by insurance.

But that strong and determined will, not to be "downed" even by such a catastrophe, again prevailed, and within 24 hours plans were under way for rebuilding on a more substantial scale. Following close on the heels of the fire came the panic of 1873, and then the removal of the Milburn Wagon Works, which industry had been one of the powerful factors in Mishawaka's growth, but the will and "power to do" was sustained, and since that time the city's progress has been steady and ever forward.

Mishawaka's fame has spread far and wide and has tended to attract people of many nationalities to live here. A survey taken by the high school students in 1916 showed 21 nationalities living within the city's boundaries. Mishawaka has one of the largest Belgian-American colonies in the U. S. and is justly proud of the fact.

Six of the leading industries are the Indiana & Michigan Electric Co., Mishawaka Rubber & Woolen Mfg. Co., Dodge Mfg. Co., Wheelabrator & Equipment Corp., Hygrade Food Products Corp., and Bendix Products Div., (Missile Section). Founded in 1868, the rubber and woolen manufacturing plant grew from a small frame building to its present proportions, one of the largest manufacturing rubber footwear in the world.

The Dodge plant, started in 1879 was on the highway to success, but in 1881 was destroyed by a disastrous fire. However, through friends and overstrained credit, its founder, Wallace H. Dodge, re-engaged in business, and success came by leaps and bounds. Today the company is one of the largest industries in the city.

Completely recovering from its early set backs, in 1899 the Village of Mishawaka incorporated as a city, and on May 8, 1899, elected M. M. Fisher as its first mayor.

Today Mishawaka and its prosperous citizens are proud of the city. The streets are wide and clean; the business district, while not large, has dozens of enterprising industries, all bustling with activity, and with employers and employees alike full of civic pride and courtesy.

Schools, both public and parochial, are built along modern lines, and instructors are of the highest caliber in their profession. Bethel College is a school with facilities to accommodate some 150 students, and is rated high in college educational circles.

Merchants and citizens alike take pride in their Chamber of Commerce. The Mishawaka Chamber of Commerce, affiliated with the National Better Business Bureau, the Indiana State Chamber of Commerce and the Chamber of Commerce of the U. S., has been instrumental in raising the standard of business practice among the city's 128 diversified industries, through the wide-awake and civic-minded board of directors and secretary. The Junior Chamber of Commerce has one of the largest charter memberships in the state.

POLK'S MISHAWAKA

Directory of Householders, Occupants of Office Buildings and
Other Business Places, Including a Complete
Street and Avenue Guide

1956

Copyright, 1956 by R. L. Polk &amp; Co.

In the following list the numbered streets are arranged in numerical order, followed by the named streets in alphabetical order, the intersecting streets being shown. The number of each building on the street is given in numerical order, and opposite the number is placed the name of the occupants or houseowner or tenant. In the business blocks containing offices the occupants are shown by room numbers where practicable, in apartment homes the number denotes the number of the apartment. In all streets both sides of the street are included in one list. The profession or business of individuals or firms is given only at their respective place of business; to find occupation of others refer to Alphabetical List of Names.

The symbol © following a householder's name indicates that we have received information during the canvass that the house is owned by some member of the family, but as the publisher cannot and does not guarantee the correctness of the information furnished, nor the complete absence of mistakes no responsibility for errors can be or is assumed, nor can the publisher furnish further information than that shown.

The Δ preceding names denotes houses and places of business having telephones.

(The numerals that appear at right edge of columns, ahead of street descriptions and some street intersections, are merely for the guidance of the publishers, and have no other significance.)
(This section includes some listings reading "No Return." In each case the Publishers tried diligently, by various means, to obtain the information for the occupants but were unsuccessful. First, two personal calls were made by an enumerator; next, a double postal card was mailed and the telephone used when possible.)

WHY A BUYERS' GUIDE?

IT IS CUSTOMARY TO INCLUDE A BUYERS' GUIDE IN THE CITY DIRECTORY BECAUSE:

It gives business firms the opportunity to elaborate upon a description of their products and services impossible in the limited space of regular Alphabetical and Classified listings.

★ The Buyers' Guide is a necessary supplement to the regular listings; it is good City Directory information . . . EXTENDED ★
